The New School Law.

The Kentucky Educational Association at a meeting in Louisville adopted resolutions recommending radical and dangerous changes in the school law of the state, which will be by a committee drafted into a bill and presented to the legislature to be enacted as a law. The law they recommend would be an outrage upon each school district. It denies each district the right to elect its own trustees, to employ its own teachers, and denies the district the right to buy its own school house furniture, fixtures, etc.
 and centralizes the whole power in the hands of a paid county board that can employ teachers whether they are satisfactory to patrons of the school or not. We believe the patrons of each school district are the best judges of their own needs and wants, and that the right and privilege to conduct and control their own affairs should not be taken from them.
 We do not know it, and have no evidence now to prove it, but it is our opinion that the big publishers of school books, maps, charts, etc., and the manufacturers of school house furniture, supplies, etc., are behind this scheme.

These concerns have dipped their hands into the school laws of every state whenever they could. As a rule it is much easier for those concerns to deal with a county school board than school district, and whether or not they are behind the proposed law they will welcome it, for it will be to their liking.—Winchester Sun.

You have sized this matter up about right, Bro. Mitchell, and if the bill is baited with a sufficient amount of boodle when thrown into the political pond at Frankfort they will land a sufficient number of votes to carry it.—

Children Especially Liable.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning.
 Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "De-Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mook, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day."

"Very well, William," I said with a tremendous effort. I always had disliked the name, and now I simply detested it.

He stayed a good while after that, talking about where we should live and the new furniture for his new house, and jewels for me and horses, till I could stand it no longer. And I suppose I looked something of what I felt, for very reluctantly he went away.

Then I crawled upstairs to my mother—my poor, delicate mother —too pretty and helpless altogeth-world. She had been urging me for months past, for her sake and for that of the children, to accept William Repton and all his money.

She was lying on her couch, as usual, in the firelight when I crept into the room, which I had shared with her since my father's death, two years before.

"Is that you, Margaret? I am feeling very tired," she said, open-

Fitting Place for The Memorial.

It is most fitting and proper that the National memorial should be erected at Canton, Ohio, over the last resting place of William McKinley. It was his home in life; his children are buried there; and 'tis was his wish to lie beside them. More than this, it is the desire of Mrs. McKinley and his family as well as his nearest and dearest friends, and the Nation's tribute should be builded there.

A SECRET SIN.

BY A. M. BELLERBY.

CHAPTER I.

"BUT I don't love you—I never shall; and therefore I can not and ought not to marry you," I argued miserably.
 "You'll love me some time, Margaret, and will learn to be quite happy as my wife. It will be my chief care in life to make you so," replied my would-be lover, William Repton.

I looked at him with a sense of helpless impotence—at his aggressive straight hair, that stood up stiffly in the direction in which it was brushed; at his florid face, handsome no doubt to some people's taste; at his wide-open, gray-blue eyes, and I thought of what father had once said—that a man with eyes like that can come straight from the commission of the seven deadly sins and gaze at you unthinkingly.

"Do you mean," I said slowly,
 "that, though I have not a penny to bless myself with, no special ability of any description, and no affection to give you, that you actually want to marry me?"

"I would marry you if you were the veriest beggar in the street," he answered, so vehemently that I shrank away a little further. "I will give you everything the heart of a woman can desire."

"I don't want anything for myself; it is my mother and the children. It is for their sakes I should accept you if I did, and I don't want to."

The study Mr. Repton's face presented at this complimentary remark almost made me laugh, in spite of my misery. He was not given to lavishing money on matters from which he derived no direct advantage.

"I don't want to marry your family, Miss Eady," he said, getting very red, his eyes growing so wide that they reminded me of the three guardian dogs in Grimm's fairy tales.

"Then you won't marry me, Mr.
 Repton," I replied, with much decision, "so I will wish you a good afternoon." And, with a bow which I sincerely hoped was as dignified as I meant it to be, I hurried toward the door; but his voice recalled me.

"Miss Eady—Margaret, stay! I can not let you go! Listen. If I promise to help your family, to promote Rob, and send the others to school, will that do? Your mother shall come and live with me, but I couldn't stand all those hobbledheys about."

"Oh, you are really too gracious," I answered, snatching my hand away. How I longed to box his ears! "But I am quite sure my mother would prefer to retain her own house. However, if you promise to provide for them all,
 then, and only on that condition, will I promise to marry you."

I got out the words with difficulty. My throat was dry, and my eyeballs hot and smarting. Tears were a rare luxury in my life.

"I swear it," he answered, adding an unnecessary oath that made me shudder. "Your mother shall have nothing left to worry over, and all the youngsters shall have a start in the world." He came undesirably near as he spoke, but I held up my hand.

"Oh, wait!" I said. "Understand, I have never encouraged you, that I do not marry you for any reason but that you are rich and we are hopelessly poor."

"I know it," he said. "And the reason I believe I love you so, Margaret, after your beauty"— letting those horrible eyes of his stare at me with a look for which I could have scratched him—"is because you have always given me the cold shoulder. So many women have flung themselves at my head that your treatment of me makes me love you all the more."

"It may now, but not after.
 You don't know what a temper I have. We shall be throwing the breakfast things at one another, and have a judicial separation before three months are over."

I spoke in deadly earnest; but he laughed, amused.

"I shouldn't like a wife without a temper, Margaret. I prefer one with a spice of mischief in her."

"That you may break her will?"
 Law is sometimes merciful to the shrew in these days, Mr. Repton."

"Enough of this, Margaret," he said impatiently. "Let me have your answer."

I hid my face in my hands, partly to shut out his gaze, partly to think.

William Repton was one of the richest men in all rich Birmingham—a manufacturer, of course, whose employment my brother, Rob, had entered some three or four years before.

Some accident—as we call it in our blindness—had brought him to our house. To my dismay, he had been struck with my appearance; and after my father's death, with its trouble and consequent real poverty, had chosen to fall in love with me.

Justly or unjustly, I had disliked him from the first, a feeling that had deepened into actual detestation and loathing when I found he was actually paying me attentions, which my poor, delicate harassed mother, and also Rob, urged and implored me to encourage.

Certainly our affairs were in a desperate state, for, excepting my brother's small salary, we had no certain income. And if I tried to make my living—a forlorn hope—without any special training and education, my mother would as-surely sink under the worry, the wear and tear of housekeeping, making, mending, and teaching our dear but unruly younger ones, between whom and me death had made a large gap.

I was quite heart whole. There was no one else I particularly cared for. William Repton was not ill-favored, and many a girl would have been delighted to accept him; but he was lacking by nature and education in every gentlemanly instinct. There was that want of refinement, and, on the other hand, that obtrusive self-satisfaction which are so detestable to some women; so that, in spite of our desperate circumstances, I had done my best, as Rob elegantly phrased it, "to choke him off." Certainly my dearly loved father would rather he and I had starved together than have me become Mrs. William Repton.

But things had come to a climax. Today he had proposed, and was willing, under compulsion, to provide for my family if I married him. I thought of quarter-day near at hand, and the unpaid bills it would bring in.

"Very well," I said at last, withdrawing my hands. "If you want to marry me with the clear understanding that I don't love you and never shall; and if you will provide for mother and the rest, I will be your wife and try to do my duty. If you should get tired, of the engagement, however, I shall not make any fuss."

"There is no fear of that," he said, in a thick voice. And then I shuddered all over as he seized me in his arms and kissed me till I grew sick and faint with loathing both at him and at myself, remembering that I had given him the right.

"Stop! oh, stop!" I can not endure this!"

"What do you mean?" he asked, a suspicion of anger in his wide eyes.

"I can not stand kissing any one but my mother! I hardly ever kiss others."

THE HERALD.

GREATEST FAMILY WEEKLY

SPENCER COOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, January 16, 1902.

BECAUSE we last week noted the fact that many of our citizens had expressed the opinion that in buying the poor house farm the board of magistrates had acted hastily, and made a bad bargain 'Squire John D. Rose, jr., jumps on us with both feet, calls people liars, and indulges in other uncouth language. He says there are 140 acres, whereas others—and these close neighbors—say that it is only about 100 acres, and that it is very rough. We know nothing about it ourselves, and it is possible that we may have been imposed upon. Of one thing, however, we are convinced, and that is that Judge Tutt is to be congratulated upon the sale. No man with whom we have talked blames him in the least. The county wanted to buy and he wanted to sell and he was smart enough to do so at a very good price. But whether there be 100 or 140 acres, the fact remains that many of the people think it was a waste of the county's money. 'Squire Rose, 'Squire Oliver and 'Squire Chambers were the committee to buy the farm, and their haste in doing so may be accounted for in the fact that they knew the county clerk had some cash on hand which they wanted to get their clutches on. Wm. Chambers paid $76.00 balance on the farm he bought of the county, and Henry Campbell paid in $60.00 on the delinquent list. 'Squire Rose presented his bill for $24.00 for services as commissioner, and was allowed $20, Oliver was allowed $20 and Chambers $17.00, and it was ordered paid out of the funds in the hands of the clerk, $57. Besides this the board of magistrates allowed themselves $3 per diem for three days each and this was ordered paid out of the same fund—$54.00 for just six of the magistrates, and $57.00 for three of those magistrates as commissioners in buying the poor farm. And this allowed out of the cash in hand of the clerk while other claimants have to wait a year. It will be seen that they voted themselves $111 of $136, and why they didn't gobble up the other $25 is a question unanswered. Now, are the magistrates any more entitled to be paid cash in hand than other claimants? If so, we fail to see the reason. But, as before stated, to get hold of this money probably hastened the deal for the farm. If we are correctly informed the place bought was not the first choice of either 'Squire Rose or some others, and one magistrate agreed to its purchase only after he be allowed to see it although his choice was a place held at $1,200. Next morning when asked if he would entertain a proposition to purchase the $1,200 farm for $900, he replied that he had voted for the Tutt place. But enough of this. As to his forfeiture of the office of justice of peace we simply gave the consensus of opinion. That he does not forfeit it will be glorious news to his constituents, because it would have been a calamity from which the county might never have recovered. Now, 'Squire, a few words in conclusion. THE HERALD has been very kind to you in the past, and you make nothing by getting mad and calling people names because they happen to differ with you in opinion. An official should be very guarded in his language, and especially one who is ambitious to go up higher. John, you are too quick on trigger. Remember that notwithstanding you hold the exalted position of justice of the peace, there are other people who have a right to express their opinion of public affairs. Don't, we beseech you, try to play President Roosevelt and close the mouths of the people as he has the mouths of the army and navy.

A Perfect Cathartic

Is one which does not wrench the system or leave it weak and exhausted. A perfect cathartic is found in Hood's Pills. They are praised everywhere, and after once being tried they soon permanently take the place of the old fashioned drastic pills, such as "our grandfathers used." Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla and they greatly aid that medicine in its cleansing and purifying work.

CURRENT EVENTS.

Uncle Sam was made by public opinion to look that Carnegie gift-horse in the mouth.

Congress has dropped back into its regular we've-got-all-the-year-gait as a result of too much holiday.

Mr. Roosevelt is sowing a crop of anti seed that cannot fail in due time to produce a crop of thistles in his path.

Results of the Hanna-Foraker battle are such as to encourage both to continue fighting, and to please democrats.

The Dowager Empress of China is getting foxy. To offset reported favors to the Boxers she has been talking favorably to foreigners.

Neely's trial has started in Havana, but, in view of the time it took to reach that stage, nobody is trying to guess when it will end.

There have been heavy gales on the Atlantic, but Chauncey Depew, who was coming home with his bride, didn't know it until he read it in the papers.

Senator Clark of Montana feels slighted when the Washington match makers left a whole week pass without choosing and announcing a wife for him.

The first round of the Hanna-Foraker scrap was declared a draw, but they have gone so far that they will have to fight to a finish the next time they clinch.

Admirals Dewey and Schley have gone south in search of more balmy atmosphere, but Gen. Miles is still thriving in Washington, notwithstanding the Roosevelt frigidity.

Perhaps the Washington man who split another's head open with a teakettle was merely trying to introduce red tea as a rival to the pink teas he had been reading about.

If Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, of Merrimac fame, should succeed in exchanging from the navy into congress he ought to be able to put up some hot speeches on favoritism in the navy.

The Panama devil fish seems to be slowly but surely gathering in Mr. Roosevelt and his administration. Congress can still save them by a vigorous use of the Nicaragua axe, but it will have to cut fast.

Yep! Funny things in politics. Mr. Griggs—the New Jersey Griggs, if you please—gave up the portfolio of attorney general in Mr. McKinley's cabinet because the $3,000 salary would not justify his leaving his private practice. Now, Mr. Griggs is scrambling to get sent to the senate, where his salary will only be $5,000. Either his practice has fallen off or he doesn't regard a seat in the senate as a bar to its continuance.

Public or semi-public donations should not be too closely investigated. What looks like genuine benevolence to the naked eye is often shown to be only an awakened conscience when placed under a powerful glass. Such discoveries are not beneficial to anybody.

Much rot is being written under the guise of criticism of the democrats in Congress. The only fault we have to find with the democrats in congress is that there are not enough of them, and that fault is likely to be remedied at this year's elections.

It would be much better for alien residents of this country who are not satisfied with the same legal rights given citizens of the states in which they reside to go back home than for congress to give them rights that are not given to citizens.

The Rough Riders can't shake off the habit of attracting public attention. One of them, who was agent for the Armour Packing Co.'s branch at Eureka Springs, Ark., skipped with all the available cash the other day.

Coal-consumers need expect no benefit from the entry of the big steel trust into the coal-mining field. The trust that does anything for the benefit of the consumer is yet to be born.

'SQUIRE ROSE

Jumps Upon Us With Both Feet for Airing a Rumor.

In last week's issue your paper, presumably from your own pen, I seen a statement to the effect that by accepting the position of supervisor I had forfeited the office of justice of the peace, to which I had recently been elected, the duties which office I was sworn to fulfill. It is true that I accepted the position of supervisor, and was qualified as such, and afterwards gave bond and was sworn in as justice of the peace. I do not know who is the author of the malignant and scurrilous report that I had accepted a position incompatible with the office to which the people had elected me, nor do I care to know, but I will say it is a lie out of whole cloth, which had its conception in ignorance of the law or a desire to injure me by questionable methods. I was never known to be disloyal to a friend or recreant to a trust. I was sworn to execute the duties of office to which the people elected me and I will do it. The office of justice of the peace and the position of supervisor are not incompatible, as will be clearly seen by reference to section 3746 of the Kentucky statutes.

Granting, for the sake of argument, they are incompatible, the office of justice of the peace is not forfeited. Section 3744 Kentucky statutes, reads:

"The acceptance by one in office of another office, or employment incompatible with the one he holds, shall operate to vacate the first."

As the position of supervisor was accepted first the law will not operate to vacate the other. Hence, those who are anxious as to who shall be my successor may dismiss their anxieties and cease to worry about the matter for I intend to hold the office until it is vacated by some act of omission or commission by myself, and to the author of this report and to those to whom it finds credence, a word of advice: Wet your heads and keep your heads cool, for such remarkable fertility cannot be kept too moist.

Also, I see a statement in the same issue of your paper that the magistrates of Wolfe county had bought a poor house farm "located in the Rocky Branch about 2 1/2 or 3 miles from Campton, and cost about $1,000, and that it is very rough piece of land practically without improvements, and is thought to be a waste of the county money." Now, in justice to myself, as I am a magistrate and helped to buy said land, that the foregoing is not a true statement of the facts in the case. In the first place, it is not "located in the Rocky Branch," but on the Rocky Branch. It is not a rocky farm; it contains about 140 acres of land, 60 acres cleared, well fenced, in a high state of cultivation. The remainder of said land is well timbered; it is rich and productive. It contains a house of six rooms, nicely ceiled, with a stack-stone chimney. The farm is well worth the money. These facts can not be contradicted, and I challenge any man over his own signature, who professes to know the facts, to discuss this matter with me. I do this with no exalted opinion of my ability, but with a consciousness of the rectitude of the motives of my associates and myself and the justice of the cause which we represent. We can not afford to ignore such grave and flagrant charges against the honor and judgment of the fiscal court as then composed. I make these statements to set myself right before the people. Respectfully, JOHN D. ROSE, J. P.

THE HERALD.

GREATER WEEKLY

Henry Wilson on Saturday sold Thos. Taulbee a house and lot in Daysboro for $150 in cash.

The report that John Murphy had sold his farm, which appeared in last week's paper, was premature.

WANTED—Fifty bushels of corn in exchange for groceries, harness, salt, &c. Apply to Cecil Bros. Hazel Green.

You can pay for THE HERALD in onions, Irish potatoes, spare-ribs, &c., so there is no excuse for ignorance.

Miss Miranda Dennis attended the funeral of her nephew, William Dennis, on Red river last Thursday, who died Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, aged 19.

NERVOUS troubles are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cures and purifies the blood. It is the best medicine for nervous PEOPLE.

With regard to the statement by Rev. Mr. Greening that he did not rent the parsonage, Mr. Stamper comes forward and says positively that he did rent from Mr. Greening and could prove the fact by witnesses. We hope this will close the controversy.

Misses Emma and Ida Day, two of the young lady students at the academy, accompanied by their father, James T. Day of Lykins, Morgan county, paid our office a call Saturday to see the press in operation, but were disappointed and we hope they will call again.

Judge Wheeler, whose term of office expired with the end of 1901, is said to have since laid himself liable to prosecution by "Byrd hunting on Sunday." But they say he is perfectly willing to pay the penalty, and some predict that he will ask the authorities to assign his punishment at once.

Dr. Center reports the birth of twin girls to the wife of George Billings, of Stillwater, on Thursday, the 9th inst. The father in this case is only just 21 past and the mother about 18, so if they continue in the cause as they have commenced they will ere a ripe old age have fulfilled the scriptural injunction, "Replenish and multiply the earth."

Green Goss of Maraba went to Lexington last week to enlist in the army, but owing to a difference of an inch in his walking gear he was disqualified. If Green had run against a "slick" confidence man and got his leg "pulled" he would have been a soldier now. Langworthy, Byrd and Simpkins, who were with him, passed the examination, and are now wearing the blue.—Frenchburg News.

The Morgan County Messenger, under the management of Wm. F. Schooner and T. B. Thrash, made its appearance last week. Owing to declining health Mr. Caraway was forced to retire and leased the paper to the gentlemen named, both of whom are practical printers. Mr. Thrash, however, will have the management, and judging from the improved appearance of the paper we believe he will give the people of Morgan a good paper.

A Fine Showing.

The directors of the Standard Publishing Company, of Lexington, Ky., which owns the Southern School Journal, has declared an 8% dividend upon its capital stock, this dividend to be paid out of the net earnings of the company for the year 1901. It is the only stock in Lexington paying eight per cent this year; 10 per cent could have been paid but the directors think it best to hold a good reserve. The list of bonafide, paying subscribers has been increased to nearly five thousand.

BY SAM WILSON.

I wrote my love a matchless song, And on the lines she pondered long; She seemed to be with rapture caught At visions of my inmost thought. To a music firm she sent the gem— This masterpiece of heart and pen. The world went wild, and all relate Ten million copies sold up to date. And since she owns a mint of gold, Her love for me has grown ice-cold. And now my heart is sorely bereft; She got the profits and I got left.

A Little Book of Great Importance.

Do you ever wish for a book that can be relied upon to answer correctly all the little questions and knotty problems that present themselves day by day—a book that will quickly decide all arguments on all subjects? The 1902 World Almanac and Encyclopedia, which is now ready, is exactly this kind of book. It takes the same position in the world of facts and figures as does the dictionary in the world of words.

This little volume contains over 600 pages of well-printed, accurate type, every line containing some facts that you will sooner or later want to look up.

The World Almanac should occupy a prominent place in every progressive American household. The 1902 edition is more complete than any of the former ones. It contains facts on many subjects that have recently been brought to the public notice and which every up-to-date person should have at his fingers' ends.

Among the features of the 1902 Almanac are:

The millionaires of the United States—a list giving the names of nearly 4,000 Americans who possess over $1,000,000. The great American trusts; full particulars of 163 leading industrial organizations. Organized labor; enlarged statistics of the strength of labor unions and the present condition of the labor movement. The Nicaragua Canal and the Hay-Pauncefote treaties with Great Britain. Progress of aerial navigation in 1901. Complete United States Census. Anarchist statistics of the United States and Europe, &c., &c., to the extent of over 1,000 topics. The 1902 World Almanac and Encyclopedia is on sale by all newsdealers throughout the country for 25 cents. When ordered by mail 10c. extra for postage must be inclosed to The World, New York.

Dr. Nickell, who was called in consultation with Dr. Carroll, reports the birth of a boy to the wife of Logan Wilson, above Lee City, on Friday, the 10th inst. This child was weighed immediately after birth and bore down the scale at 12½ pounds. Dr. Nickell says that while it was perfectly formed its head appeared to be abnormally large—in fact as large as a child two or three months old.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already. Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion. Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

Judgment Reversed.

Commonwealth of Kentucky, vs. H. F. Pieratt, Profane Swearing. This offence being committed in the presence of the Police Judge on the 25th day of Feb. 1899, it is therefore adjudged that the defendant, H. F. Pieratt, be and he is hereby fined $1.00 for swearing in town of Hazel Green, for the use and benefit of said town.

This Feb. 25, 1899.

G. W. WHEELER, J. H. G. P. C.

At the November election H. F. Pieratt was elected as Judge Wheeler's successor, and, as will be seen by the following, reverses the judgment.

This court being acquainted with the circumstances connected with this case adjudges that same be dismissed without prejudice. Difference in opinion between the two judges.

We claim to be the Lowest Priced Whiskey House. We really sell whiskey as low as $1.10 per gallon, and mind you: distilled whiskey—not a decoction of chemicals—but of course it is new and under proof. Our "Mountain Dew" 5 year old whiskey is a liquid joy! It is actually produced by honest Tar Heels in the Mountain Section of N. C., by the old time hand process. Every drop is boiled over open turnstone wood fires, in old style copper stills, in exactly the same way as distilled by our grandfathers a century ago. First rate whiskey is sold at $5 and $6 per gallon, but is not any better than "Mountain Dew." It is the best in the world and must please every customer or we will buy it back for Gold—and the Peoples National Bank of Winston, N. C., will tell you our guarantee is good. To more fully introduce "Mountain Dew," we offer either three or five gallons (in plain sealed box), at the special price of $1.75 per gallon, cash with order. Positively no larger amount shipped. On future shipments we will require the usual price, viz: $2.25 per gal. Express prepaid to all regular customers. DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Inc., Hamilton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Richard Kerens' Tribute.

Hon. Richard C. Kerens of St. Louis is better known throughout the country as a remarkably successful business man and as a politician of rare sagacity than as a literary character, yet in a letter to The McKinley National Memorial Association, of which he is an honorary member, he pays the following eloquent tribute to the late President: "The beauties of his nature, his lovable character, will endure longer than the granite shaft that may be raised to honor his memory. Above all, was the sublime example shown in his death. This is a heritage to the world which will shine out brighter as time goes on and should make all nations more thoughtful for good and more abhorrent of evil. The ages to come and generations yet unborn will be inspired by the story of his more than Christian death."

Child Worth Millions.

"My child is worth a million to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would not lose her by croup had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is sure cure for coughs, croup and throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough cure which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. The little ones like the taste and remember how often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly.

H. F. PIERATT.

The sum of $720,626.36 was spent for charitable purposes in Kentucky last year, and Gov. Beckham asks the legislature to make a rigid investigation.

She Wants it Published.

Gooch's Mexican Syrup has given perfect satisfaction in my family and I want to recommend it to everyone as the best remedy for coughs, colds, and all lung troubles. A young lady in my employ, who had been forced to quit work and who had been given up to die by her friends with consumption, has by the use of Gooch's Mexican Syrup been restored to health, and is now at work earning her living and enjoying good health. She wants me to publish this as it may be the means of saving the life of some other consumptive.

R. M. FLEMING, Piqua, O.

The office of enrolling clerk of the Kentucky senate was more hotly contested than any other. Before it could be decided 52 ballots had been taken.

Food Changed to Poison.

Putrefying food in the intestines produces effects like those of arsenic, but Dr. King's New Life Pills expel the poisons from clogged bowels, gently, easily but surely, curing constipation, biliousness, sick headache, fevers, all liver, kidney and bowel troubles. Only 25 cts., at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drugstores.

Kentucky had a cash balance of $1,146,130.03 on January 2, of this year. Suppose the republicans were in control? It would be the other way.

Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

An effort is being made by the new members from Kenton county and from Covington to get a bill through the legislature permitting the people to vote on a proposition to remove the county seat from Independence to Covington.

People generally do not know it, but through loss of the bonds Kentucky will escape the payment of $6,394. They have gone the way of Ward & ducks, and the tax-payers will be glad of it.

Saw Death Near.

"It often made my heart ache," writes L. C. Overstreet, of Elgin, Tenn., "to hear my wife cough until it seemed her weak and sore lungs would collapse. Good doctors said she was so far gone with consumption that no medicine or earthly help could save her, but a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery and persistent use of this excellent medicine saved her life." It's absolutely guaranteed for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung diseases. 50 cents and $1.00 at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drugstores. Trial bottles free.

The amount of bonded indebtedness of Kentucky on Jan. 1, 1902, was $500,000 in 4 per cent bonds maturing in 1905, and $500,000 in 4 per cent bonds maturing in 1907.

The public buildings of Frankfort have long been a disgrace to Kentucky, and it is to be hoped the present legislature will appropriate funds to put up decent ones.

Henry Pieratt bought all the picture frames the agent of the Chicago Portrait Co. had left over and is selling them 50 per cent cheaper than the agent sold them. The number is limited, and if you want one you'd better move in a hurry, as they are going like hot cakes. 52-tf

ASTHMA CURE FREE

Asthmaene Brings Instant Relief and Permanent Cure in All Cases.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL. WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like ASTHMAENE. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "I was a trial bottle of Asthmaene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for 10 years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel.

NEW YORK, January 3, 1901. DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.: Gentlemen: Your Asthmaene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful.

After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmaene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or other. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., February 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.: Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmaene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I came to your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmaene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle the Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

February 5, 1901. DR. TAFT BROS. MED. CO.: Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have a family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit. Home address, 235 Rivington street. S. RAPHAEL, 67 East 129th street, New York City.

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz.: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Normal School, Civil, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than thirty professors and instructors, and is aided by a corps of assistant professors, lecturers, demonstrators, and other staff. The college is situated on a beautiful campus, and the laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. The last Legislature appropriated $20,000 for a college home for young women, and a drill hall and gymnasium has been provided for men. Military duties and science are fully provided for and required by Congress. Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 629. For catalogues, method of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to JAMES K. PATTERSON, Ph. D., LL. D., President, or to Prof. D. C. ABOUT THE MONTHLY WORLD.
THE MONTHLY WORLD is a 32-page Magazine with colored cover. It is copiously illustrated with pen drawings and half-tone reproductions of photographs. The illustrations are the result of the best artistic skill, aided by all the latest printing press appliances, making a magazine unrivaled in the quality of its contents and the beauty of its appearance.

Each issue contains stories of romance, love, adventure, travel; stories of fiction and fact; stories of things quaint and curious, gathered together from all over the world; the results of scientific research, and interesting editorial reviews. It numbers among its contributors the leading literary men and women of the day. Its comic pages will present the work of famous comic artists. There will be funny paragraphs and pictures.

A feature each month will be the large first page portrait of the most famed man or woman of the moment in the public eye.

In collecting and preparing for publication the literary matter and art subjects for the Monthly World no expense is spared. It is one of the most attractive publications issued from the great city of New York. It furnishes high-class and widely varied entertainment to many thousands of readers throughout North America.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.: I purchased some of the Vitae-Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vitae-Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vitae-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitae-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vitae Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
